Sewerage and Water Board and other water utilities nationwide observed Drinking Water Week May 7th-13th.

Headed by the American Water Works Association, Drinking Water Week is a time for communities to join together to acknowledge the men and women who produce their drinking water and to recognize the vital role water plays in daily life. This year’s theme was “Your Water—To Know It Is to Love It.” Since 1992, S&WB’s Drinking Water Week celebration has highlighted the ways in which consumers personally connect with the water they use.

This year, S&WB provided ice cold water along with freshly-brewed coffee and light snacks for customers visiting the St. Joseph Office. Customers also received brochures that highlighted the benefits of a modern and reliable water system, explained how faucets and toilet leaks can affect water bills, and listed jobs available in the water industry.

S&WB customer, T.C. Mitts enjoys a complementary cup of coffee and receives a free rain gauge during Drinking Water Week 2017.

Congratulations to Dr. Chanel M. Payne, daughter of Special Accounts Unit Manager Rose Payne. Dr. Payne earned a PhD in Education Administration from Texas Southern University.

Darnell K. Bridges, Jr., son of Shantrell Bowie of the EDBP Department, is a 2017 graduate of Edna Karr High School. Darnell graduated with a 3.75 GPA and was captain on defense as middle linebacker. The team went on to win this year’s State championship. Darnell received over $90,000 in scholarships and he will begin his studies this summer at Miles College in Birmingham, Alabama. Congrats to Shantrell, her husband and Darnell.

REPELLING INSECTS

Most insect-repelling plants thwart pests with their naturally-occurring fragrance. Not only will these plants keep pesky insects at bay, they will also introduce new scents all through your garden or patio.

Planting and growing insect-repelling plants provide a great opportunity to get out in the garden. Want to know more? Visit www.naturallivingideas.com to learn how to naturally repel garden bugs.
